

Why does my business need a Loss Control plan?

As a small businessowner, the last thing you need to worry about are unexpected losses that could have been prevented or reduced in severity. Having a company action plan can help your operation lessen the possibility of unforeseen loss.

How can State Farm® help?

Regardless of your type of business, our Loss Control team can assist you in creating safety and recovery plans for a variety of losses, including:

- Vehicle crashes
- Employee injuries
- Fires
- Crime
- Severe weather
- Water ... and more

Why should you consider the State Farm Loss Control team?

Our services are provided to you at NO COST, and can potentially help your business:

- Limit the frequency and impact of losses
- Save time and money
- Decrease business disruptions
- Lower your premium

What tools can State Farm provide my business?

State Farm has many free resources to assist you in recognizing and controlling some of the most common causes of loss in your industry, including guides to help you develop a specific loss control program for your business.

We can even consult with you to learn more about your business practices, and suggest additional ways to strengthen your current loss control plans.
